May-June 2024: Unexpected gifts of spring and summer

The month of May finds us catching our breath after having moved through the Collective Shadows and the challenges of the latest Eclipse Season. While eclipses can reveal hidden work that needs attendance and Collective Shadow Cycles show where our human collective is stuck on the Evolutionary Path, if we have diligently addressed these issues, we may feel we have accomplished enough hard work to deserve a period of reprieve. And this is certainly welcome in this time of confusion and chaos.

We can find that reprieve in the 13-day period of Planting Energy that began in late April (post Eclipse and Collective Shadow Cycle), and we can enjoy it through 8 May. The alignment of May's Planting Energy and being able to create and plant new ideas in the spring brings a focus on the opportunities that abound for planting new and positive viewpoints and making plans for actions that suit the changing circumstances. Planting Energy always brings a renewed energy of hope and trust in our creative abilities.

On 9 May, immediately following the appearance of the New Moon, we move into the period of Evolving Energy, an Eastern energy that is full of shifting boundaries and the possibility of destabilisation of existing structures, be they financial, political or personal. Please remember that change always emerges from chaos, and whatever unexpected or chaotic things may appear during this period, use your own power to make a positive difference on a new and better path. Remember, we are always evolving into something different.

The 22 May brings 13 days of Devoting Energy influence, guiding us to be sure we are loyal and devoted to the people and things that are right for us in this 'now' moment. This period brings a space to catch our breath in peaceful energies if we have moved away from any personal agendas and made choices that actually benefit the highest good for all. In this energy, we can devote ourselves to what is truly most important.

The 4 June is a day full of big changes! We move into the deeply reflective 13-day period of Listening Energy at the same time as the Venus star moves away from the influence of Leo and into the stimulus of Gemini to communicate what needs to be said. At the same time, Venus also moves into the phase of Transmutation, calling us to transmute or change whatever is not working in our lives. Listening Energy is a most important period to really quiet ourselves and hear what is absolutely necessary for us to know, and Venus lights our way. This is a time of potent influences urging us to listen to our hearts, communicate clearly what needs to be expressed, and to change anything that does not support our growth and evolution.

On 17 June we begin to experience the influence of Intuiting Energy for 13 days, which will take us almost to the end of the month. If we have listened well, said what needed to be said, and made our best efforts to change what needed changing in the preceding 13-day period, it will be much easier for us to pay attention to and act upon the intuitive messages delivered by our hearts. Listening to our intuition is always helpful on our path towards enlightenment.

We close out the month on 30 June with the first day of Feeling Energy, so be careful with any sudden emotional reactions to people or circumstances.
